

NA4SA Academy

FOR ACTIVITY ADVISORS, LEADERSHIP TEACHERS,
& LEADERSHIP CAMP/WORKSHOP PERSONNEL

For 50 years, NA4SA has promoted student leadership and engagement. The NA4SA Academy continues this tradition by supporting adults who work with student leaders in and out of the classroom across the US, helping to professionalize student activity advising and leadership development, and giving our participants the tools, skills, knowledge, resources, and competencies they need to be successful, regardless of their role and context.

The NA4SA Academy is designed to provide support for activity advisors, leadership class teachers, and summer leadership workshop/camp staff and directors. It will be valuable no matter how much experience individuals have.

The Academy was created with the recognition that each group has unique needs that are specific to the domain where they work, but that at the core of their work is the same goal. The NA4SA Academy will both provide this foundational knowledge for everyone who works with student leaders, as well as the specialized knowledge they need to excel. Thus, the Academy will contain three levels, focusing on specific and general knowledge and competencies, in a convenient, largely asynchronous format.

The program is affordable for all and group rates are available.

Level I

Essential knowledge on topics that is relevant to anyone working with student leaders

Level II

Individualized pathways for activity advisors, leadership teachers, and summer workshop/camp staff members

Level III

Demonstrate mastery both in a specific domain and with general knowledge of student engagement and leadership, and give back to others
